

Gun Club Looks For Successful Season

Jim Caithness was elected president at the meeting of the Gun Club held Monday night. Ken McCoy was elected vice-president and Ed. Watkin secretary.

This year the club will give more attention to .22 rifle shooting in an effort to get the younger element interested in shooting. Three ranges for .22 rifles will be laid out for start, and more added if needed.

There will be medals and badges to compete for and the club will also put up a trophy.

The club was reported to be in a good financial condition, with a nice surplus in the bank, and it was now possible to reduce the trap shooting fee from $1.50 a round to $1.25. The membership fee was placed at 50c.

The first shoot will be held next Monday night at 6:30, both for trap and rifle. All interested in rifle shooting are asked to attend, as there will be a meeting to organize after the shoot.

Fire Destroys Rempel House

Fire completely destroyed the John Rempel residence early on Wednesday morning. The fire, which started near the chimney, was discovered at 2 a.m., and while the occupants were able to escape safely, they only saved a trifling quantity of the household contents.

By the time the alarm could be turned in, the fire had got such a start that it was impossible to save either the building or remainder of the contents. The house was in an isolated position and little damage was done to surrounding property.

The family are in a destitute condition and practically all their bedding and clothing was destroyed.

Red Cross Week May 1st to 15th

Would you like to help? This year the Alberta Division Canadian Red Cross Society has decided to hold its annual campaign for funds from the 1st to the 15th of May. It has been pointed out that as the 12th day of May is the date of the coronation of H. M. King George VI and also as this date is the anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birthday, it would seem appropriate to invite the people of Alberta to help the Red Cross.

For years, the 12th of May has been the British Red Cross Day, and in the Old Country the proceeds from dances, entertainments, movies, and the Red Rose Tag Day, are contributed by the people. It is desirable to inaugurate the same idea in Alberta. In view of the coronation being held this year, this is a good time to start the new policy so that all may be given an opportunity to celebrate this great occasion by showing the spirit of self-sacrifice in helping an organization that is trying to help the sick and the suffering.

The Guessing Contest.

The Heintz guessing contest which was conducted by Halliday's Grocery attracted quite a little attention.

Stewart Liesemer made the closest guess of the number of bottles of catsup in the window display. His guess was 158. There were actually 163 bottles in the window.

Knox United Church Notes.

We resume the Summer schedule of the services with next Sunday Westcott at 11 a.m., Westerdale at 3 p.m. and Town at 7:30 p.m. The sermon theme is "Covetousness," beginning a sermon series on the "Beatares of Christ." A hearty welcome is extended to all.

Evangelical Church Notes.

The pastor will preach from the subject, "The Fatherhood of God as Revealed by Jesus Christ," next Sunday morning, and in the evening the subject will be, "Conquerors."

April 25th Holy Communion will be dispensed at the morning service and also in the afternoon at Lone Pine.

A Baptismal Service will be held in the church Sunday morning, May 2nd. Any person wishing to have their children baptized will please bring them at that time.

High School Pupils To Present 3 Farces Opera House Tonight

Didsbury high school pupils are presenting three one-act farces at the Opera House tonight (Thursday) and from reports received the public of Didsbury and district are due for an evening of wholesome entertainment.

"Squaring It With the Boss" is the story of a young business man who, wanting a raise in salary, informs his boss of the near approach of a "happy event." The boss is invited to dinner, and the humorous complications which follow create delightful entertainment.

"Double Crossed" sees a young fellow who wishes to get wed, spoil for choice between two pretty girls. He is refused by both, but later is accepted, again by both. The "double cross" remains to be seen by those fortunate enough to witness this admirable little comedy-farce.

"Knave of Hearts," a costume fantasy presented by the pupils in grades 9 and 10, will prove one of the most attractive plays on the program.

In addition to the above presentations, the High School Chorus will render several selections, and vocal items will also be given by high school male and female quartettes.

The scenery, stage effects and lighting have been arranged and are under supervision of various members of the school.

Didsbury School Orchestra will provide the interval music.

W.C.T.U. Notes

A splendid representation of members and friends of the W.C.T.U. gathered at the home of Mrs. Burkholder last Thursday. A paper on Anti-Narcotics was very ably dealt with and instances quoted to show how easily a person may become an addict to drugs. It was stated that it sometimes became a habit after it had been given to patients during a serious illness, and young people had begun using it in a spirit of adventure. A nurse present gave an experience of a patient she had attended, and the seriousness of tampering with any kind of drug was emphasized. Only under orders from a reliable doctor should drugs of any kind be administered. Lunch was served and the usual social half-hour enjoyed.

"Brown Eyed Betty"

The play, "Brown Eyed Betty," was presented to an appreciative audience Monday night in the basement of the Evangelical Church by members of the E. L. C. E.

The characters were well chosen and each member of the caste played his or her part well.

The cast was as follows:

- Jonas Hutchins, pious, swindling villain
Gordon Boettger
Violet Hutchins, his tyrannized granddaughter
Mildred Deadrick
Miranda Hutchins, his sister, the minister's housekeeper
Dorothy Dippel
Cyrus Hardy, minister at Kendall Corners
Goldwin Gabel
Hiram Whitcomb, County Constable
Clayton Dippel
Harry Leon, an actor
Gerald Boettger
Jim Blinn, sleek Boston detective
Dalton Deadrick
Sam Mason, victim of Hutchins
Hector Lamont
Letitia Starbird, slanderous seamstress
Orpha Gabel
Lucinda Mason, Sam's wife
Lois Cunningham
Huldah Griffin, one of the minister's admirers
Alma Cunningham
Betty, whose good looks arouse the jealousy of all the village maidens and who finally exposes the villainy of Hutchins
Mary Wrigglesworth

The attendance was fair, and a nice sum of money was realized.

What's In a Name?

WESTERDALE

"Westerdale was first called Timber Point" by the Morley Indians. The first post office was "Harmattan," later moved to the Harrison district. But the people wanted a post office where Harmattan had been, so "Westerdale" was the name sent out by the department. The new post office was established in the residence of Joseph Bolton, who acted as postmaster for more than twenty years. The Westerdale post office was closed five years ago.

Protection For Rural Teachers

Additional protection for teachers employed by rural school boards is provided for in a bill entitled "An act respecting the conditions under which teachers are employed and paid."

Rural teachers who have been performing janitor work in addition to their teaching assignments will be relieved of this task under provisions of the act.

A minimum salary schedule of $840 is also provided for under the following section: "Any person or school board who advertises, publishes or lists any vacancy for a position of teacher, or who appoints any teacher at an annual rate of salary less than $840 per annum, previous to such engagement at such lower rate having been authorized according to this act, shall be liable on a summary conviction to a fine not exceeding $20."

Hazards Of The Highway

In common with residents elsewhere, the people of the prairie provinces are subjected to seasonal dangers resulting in loss of life and property, the incidence and severity of which could frequently be appreciably mitigated with the exercise of more care.

In the winter months on account of severe climatic conditions on the prairies, lives are lost and property destroyed by fire. With the advent of spring when the exigencies of work and a long pent-up desire for outdoor pleasures beckon them into the open, people exchange the hazards of fire at home for the dangers of the highways and the byways. For six or seven months after the spring thaw, one expects to read almost daily of automobile crashes in which one or more lives are lost and others taken to hospital with broken bones, severe gashes and contusions and shattered nerves.

And yet nine times out of ten these catastrophes could have been avoided with the exercise of more care.

Until quite recently it was thought that a very substantial proportion of these accidents was due to defects in equipment, weak brakes, ineffective lights, tires in bad condition and the like. Recent analyses of causes of accident, as far as it is possible to determine causes, show, however, that a surprisingly small percentage of accidents is caused by defective equipment, despite the number of decrepit vehicles on the road and the neglect of many drivers to keep their cars and equipment in first class condition.

Experts have come to the conclusion as a result of experience and compilation of available data, therefore, that the human element is the greatest single factor in the appalling toll of life and limb on the highways and this can be translated into terms of carelessness or wilfulness.

In the latter category must be placed the driver who gets behind the wheel with liquor under his belt, the driver who insists on streaking across the landscape, hell bent for leather, in grim determination to beat his previous best, regardless of road and traffic conditions and the driver who crowds others perilously close to the ditch rather than keep his own side of the centre of the road. Perhaps to these should be added drivers with glaring headlights who neglect the common courtesy of dimming their lamps at the approach of oncoming cars in the opposite direction.

In other words, it is the consensus of opinion of many authorities, that a substantial proportion of the accidents which provide headlines for the daily papers are due to failure to practise the golden rule: "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

For such wilful disregard of the rights of other users of the common thoroughfare penalties can scarcely be too severe or regulations too stringent and greater recourse should be had to cancellation of licenses for offences subsequent to a first conviction. The slaughter of the innocents at the hands of offenders is too great to permit of leniency where wilfulness can be proved.

Not the least dangerous of these wilful offences is the practice of "hogging the road" and not the least of these offenders is the driver of the big and heavily laden commercial truck who straddles the crown of the road and refuses to yield an inch to meeting and overtaking vehicles. Not all drivers of these juggernauts, of course, are guilty of this offence, but sufficient complaints have been voiced against this practice during the past year or two, to establish evidence that too many truck drivers are using the highway without discretion and without regard for the comfort and safety of automobile drivers.

Governments can do much to reduce the risk of accident from this source by encouraging other drivers on the highway to report the license number of this class of offender and a series of reports against the same individual might well be taken as prima facie evidence of his guilt, which, no doubt, it would be.

Good citizens who themselves observe the decencies of the road and practice courtesy to others could do much to purge the highways of some of its terrors if they would report all cases of palpably wilful actions in violation of the rights of the motoring public.

Hazards of the highways would unquestionably be materially minimized if motor clubs and kindred organizations, in co-operation with the government, would enroll their membership as amateur custodians of the laws of the road and if every right-minded user of the highway would constitute himself a patrol to safeguard the interests of himself and his fellow men and their families.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from any druggist, a package of Hemoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Kept Their Promise

Mrs. J. E. Curry, 90, has a new black dress. Back in 1867 Mrs. Curry was the first customer in a newly opened department store in Adelaide, Australia. The management presented her with an outfit of clothing and told her if she came back when she was 90 they would give her another gown. They kept their promise.

Canadian Legion

International Organization Of War Veterans To Promote Peace

The policy of the Canadian legion of exerting every effort toward promoting international harmony and world peace was given a practical turn in the announcement by Brig.-General Alex. Ross, Dominion president, of a committee appointed to inquire into a new international organization of war veterans recently formed for a like purpose.

This committee comprises Major Milton F. Gregg, V.C., Dominion hon. treasurer; J. R. Bowler, general secretary; Lt.-Col. R. de la B. Girouard, and Captain W. W. Murray. Secretary is J. C. G. Herwig of Ottawa.

The organization which has attracted the attention of the legion is known as "the permanent international committee of ex-service men." At present it has representation from 14 countries, including former enemy nations as well as former allies.

It was established at the behest of the British legion last November at a conference in Rome.

In Their Proper Setting

Canadian Mounties Will Be Seen On Horseback At Coronation

The famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police are going back to their mounts. At least the 35 who will represent this branch of the Dominion's law enforcement at the coronation of King George will take along their horses.

It was on their horses and in their scarlet tunics that the Mounted Police became known the world over for their efficiency, loyalty, bravery and resourcefulness. It is only in the movies that they so appear today. In real life as they go about their duties they travel in more modern fashion, by motor car, airplane, motorcycle or in boats. Only "once in a blue moon" are they seen on horseback. For the coronation, however, they are to have their horses and those who see the coronation will view the Mounties in their proper setting. This is as Canadians wish.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Art Of Water Divining

Has Been Taken Up Enthusiastically By Army In India

Steadily increasing interest in the art of water-divining in Aberdeenshire, Banffshire and Kincardine has led to the formation of a North-East of Scotland group affiliated to the British Society of Dowzers. Enthusiasts gathered at Syvie Castle, Aberdeenshire, on the invitation of Sir Ian and Lady Forbes, Leith, and took part in a series of tests. These include locating and ascertaining the depth of an underground stream and well; selecting a bottle containing pure water from a collection of six bottles holding various liquids; identifying magnetized and non-magnetized steel; finding hidden coins of copper and silver, and locating the water pipe and electric cable which supply the castle.

Colonel Bell stated that the army in India had taken up the art of dowsing with great enthusiasm. In a recent engagement on the North-West Frontier a dowser was able to find water in a valley where it had never been known to exist before.—London Times.

New Imperial Policy

Rt. Hon. Leopold Amery Says Economic Policy Must Be Developed

Rt. Hon. Leopold Amery, former colonial secretary, in an address at Leicester urged an imperial economic policy be developed.

Britain, he said, was easily capable of shouldering the cost of rearmament, "but I would say that in the long run, whatever our efforts, one small island on the northwest coast of Europe cannot sustain unaided the defence of a world-wide trade and a world-wide empire."

"We have got to bring a new world of empire into being to redress the balance of the old. Our policy from first to last must be an imperial policy. Our economic policy must be imperialist. At the moment of crisis our paths must not lie apart."

Sunspot Mysteries

Scientists Hope To Ascertain More About Their Effects Before End Of The Year

Sunspots surpassing in size, number and violence those of 1929, the summer when unprecedented rains flooded the western dust bowl, are predicted for this coming summer.

Already the spots, seen through the world's largest telescope at Mt. Wilson, California, exceed the 1929 average. They total now about a dozen daily, and bid fair to set a record for the present century.

It is certain they will affect weather and radio directly. Further mystery of their indirect effects may be partly solved before the summer is over.

Present spots lie in two broad bands across the sun's face, each corresponding roughly to the temperate zones of earth. Their sizes range from continents to black fields larger than the whole earth.

The reason for their position is a mystery astronomers would like to fathom. Only during the "maximum sunspot cycle," as at present, are they seen in the "temperate" zones. In the "minimum cycle," when there are few, the spots gather in a belt near the sun's equator.

They are whirlwinds. But they whirl in the opposite direction now from that of "minimum" spots, near the equator.

Their driving force seems to be electrical and magnetic. They are black because their light is ultra-violet rays, which have far more energy and destructive power on atoms than heat.

They cause increased radio static, and are accompanied, near their edges, by bright flares of light, which cause short-wave radio to fade for 10 minutes to half an hour. Their cycles affect weather and crops.

Many Young Canadian Pilots Are Now Serving On Royal Canadian Air Force

Britain's preparedness program has led to an exodus of nearly 150 pilots, holding civil flying licenses, from Canada to service on short service commissions in the Royal Air Force, government officials said.

It was emphasized the movement was not organized by government agencies but was voluntary on the part of the pilots who found the R.A.F. willing to accept their services. The pilots were generally young men attached to Canadian flying clubs.

Commenting on Sir Philip Sassoon's statement in the British House of Commons, inviting Canada to co-operate in supplying pilots, defence department officials stated the government had done no recruiting for the R.A.F. so far. A few pilots from the Royal Canadian Air Force had been sent to England for special courses of instruction.

Officials refused to state whether any preparations were under way to send a number of R.C.A.F. pilots to England as suggested by Sir Philip.

At present there are 152 officers in the R.C.A.F. of which 128 are on the general list and are active flyers. These pilots are scattered across the Dominion at the various flying bases.

Information concerning aircraft and pilots has been passed on to the British air ministry when requested, it was stated. It was also learned that a number of the civil 150 pilots now in England with the R.A.F. had been medically examined by the militia department here before they sailed.

During the past few years, a few pilots had left Canada to join the R.A.F., but the number increased rapidly following Britain's decision to re-arm and it has now nearly reached the 150 mark.

Some months ago it was announced there are several R.A.F. pilots in Canada taking special courses and one R.A.F. plane is being tested here for cold weather flying. But the reciprocal exchange of pilots between the two countries is not believed to be large.

A National Pastime

Collecting Queer Things Is Becoming Quite A Hobby

Collecting things, just as a small boy accumulates stamps, butterflies or marbles only on a much grander scale, is becoming an American national pastime with many thousands of persons spending hours in search of rare hitching posts, antique music boxes, Indian arrow-heads and what not, states the Christian Science Monitor.

The growth of collecting as a hobby is reported by Mr. O. C. Lightner, who for three years has published a magazine called "Hobbies." He has observed as an indication of this trend the springing up of hobby shops in many cities, little stores containing all kinds of queer things, from buttons to firearms, which may be snatched up as prizes by collectors.

Most collectors start in an amateurish way and develop into specialists, said Mr. Lightner. Take the stamp collectors, for example. The experienced ones limit their field. A woman in New York collects only lavender stamps. A man philatelist is interested only in those bearing the picture of Columbus. Others go in for airmail stamps, for stamps bearing pictures of ships, and so on. Stamp collectors form the largest group, the hobby editor said. Next he placed the coin people or numismatists. After them come the antique fans, and then probably the gatherers of Indian relics.

Developing Volcanic Ash

New Industry For Saskatchewan May Result From Research

Research on deposits of benotene and volcanic ash in western Canada may lead to their development for domestic use, the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy was told at its annual meeting in Montreal.

Prof. W. G. Worcester of the University of Saskatchewan and the National Research Council, has already made progress in improving the bleaching qualities of these clays of treating them with acid, it is reported.

The clays are used in the oil and lard industry for purifying and decolorizing oils, gasolines and fats. Formerly Canadian manufacturers depended on imported clays.

Deposits of volcanic dust in Saskatchewan are already being used for cleansing and scouring compounds.

New methods for extraction of metals from ores have been developed due to the demands of industry for metals of the highest purity, according to a paper to be read by Prof. J. U. McEwan.

Producers are meeting the demands for nearly 100 per cent. pure metals largely by electrolytic refining, the paper says. By this method valuable new metal by-products are being recovered.

Canada has recently become an important producer of pure cadmium, selenium and tellurium due to electrolytic refining. The metals remained as impurities in older methods of treating ores.

Radium produced in Canada is exceptionally free from mesothorium and other impurities, Dr. G. G. Lawrence said in a paper prepared for delivery before the institute.

The Sea Of Life

Is Well Applied To Our Journey Through This World

The person who first used the term "the sea of life" drew a most apt metaphor. From the time a person is rocked in the cradle of sound sleep until a half dozen of his friends "blow the man down" six feet under the earth, there is something in his life that smacks of the mighty deep.

The stage of infant squalls over, the little clipper gets his sea legs under him and prepares to learn to sail his own particular little fleet through the years. If he held a review he would probably discover his armada contains the S.S. Friendship, the flagship that leads him safely through calm or stormy water; the S.S. Hardship that tags along in spite of his best efforts to scuttle her; the S.S. Ownership that is his pride and joy not to mention the Courtship with her cargo of spice.

And if the little skipper learns to put into the harbor of sound thoughts he will avoid the gales that make his passage to Eternity Landing hazardous. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Work To Be Done

Training Young People To Take Places Of Older Men

The following is taken from Shining Line, Linotype News: One large California employer told Jack Dionne, the Texas lumber publisher, about his inability to get satisfactory help. "The trouble," he said, "is that for five years we have all been working with skeleton organizations, and we have not been building men to fit our needs. We must start all over again, building men."

Every employer should keep before him that oft-quoted sentence from Emerson's essays: "The greatest enterprise in the world for splendor, for extent, is the upbuilding of a man." All of us must interest ourselves in the proper training of young people who will take the places of those who are running things to-day.

A writer declares that the future of middle-class family life is in the hands of domestic servants. They will probably let the whole thing drop.

Oat Varieties

New Highly Rust Resistant Oat Produced At Dominion Laboratory At Winnipeg

In Western Canada Victory and Banner have long been the leading oat varieties, a position they still hold. The need, however, for earlier maturing varieties as well as rust resistant types has resulted during the past few years in the appearance of several new introductions. The more important of the early maturing varieties are Gopher, White Cross and Legacy.

Of the three, Gopher is perhaps the most widely adapted. Compared with Victory or Banner it is seven to ten days earlier maturing, possesses a stiffer but shorter straw and yields slightly less. The bushel weight is high and the quality excellent. Gopher is recommended as an early oat in all three prairie provinces.

White Cross, which originated at the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station, matures only a day or two later than Gopher. This variety has fair yielding capacity but may be criticized for its slowness of kernel and low bushel weight. It has given its best performance in northern Alberta.

Legacy was developed at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and matures midway between Victory and Gopher. It appears to be adapted mainly to central parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan where it produces a high yield of somewhat slender grains of good quality. At the Brandon Experimental Farm, Legacy outyields Gopher but is inferior to the latter in bushel weight.

Anthony, a recent introduction from Minnesota, is popular in parts of Manitoba on account of its resistance to stem rust. It resembles Victory very closely in earliness of maturity, straw strength and kernel characters. Anthony yields somewhat less than Banner or Victory under drought conditions and distinctly better in rust years.

Two other rust resistant varieties of American origin, Minrus and Rusota, have been tested at Brandon. Both have proved to be of poor quality, particularly the former which possesses objectionable yellow kernels.

Vanguard is a new highly rust resistant oat produced at the Dominion Rust Laboratory, Winnipeg, and shortly to be released for distribution. Results from recent co-operative tests show it to be two days earlier maturing than Banner, stiffer strawed and approximately equal in bushel weight and yielding capacity. The quality of grain is very satisfactory.

Robes Are Costly

Costumes For Coronation As Expensive As They Are Magnificent

Dresses, gowns and robes for the coronation service in Westminster Abbey are as expensive as they are magnificent. A duchess may spend $2,000 for the one outfit and it can only be worn for coronation ceremonies.

A peeress of the baroness degree will have to pay more than $500 and the cost mounts as the owner scales the social ladder. Nor do these figures include such extras as jewels—and as these include tiaras, necklaces, clips, brooches and pins, they represent a tidy sum.

Robes for the peeress must be of crimson velvet or of purple velvet if the wearers are of blood royal. The court gowns worn under must be white, cream, gold or silver. However, for those less favorably situated, there are such made-goods as machine-woven velvet, which is considerably cheaper, and rabbit not infrequently passes for ermine.

The robe consists of three separate parts, the velvet kirtle or gown, opening in front to show a court dress beneath, the train also of velvet falling from the shoulders, and over that a short ermine cape. A duchess does not pay more merely because she is a duchess, but because her robe has a longer train and a wider ermine trimming.

Have Become Players

People Who Formerly Watched Games Enjoy Playing Them

We note in an Ontario paper some discussion about a plan for a professional baseball league to include cities from 15,000 to 50,000, but the writer was somewhat skeptical about attendance at the games.

As a matter of fact, attendance at baseball and soccer games in many cities has fallen greatly in the past few years, for the very simple reason that the people who used to go and sit in the bleachers are now chasing a golf ball, swimming in one of the hundreds of public swimming pools or otherwise playing instead of watching others play. It is said that one of the reasons that hockey crowds at Montreal are somewhat disappointing this year is because so many people have taken up skiing and tobogganing.

It's a healthy sign when people would rather play and exert themselves than to be content to sit in the bleachers and watch others play. — Lethbridge Herald.

Hearts Are Trumps In Jiffy Knit

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

A Bit of Embroidery Gives the Tyrolean Touch

PATTERN 5812

Like to be "Queen of Hearts"? This amusing blouse of all-over heart design and fashionably full sleeves, is a charmer, and no end of fun to knit! See, the spaced hearts are simply openwork stitches outlined with blanket stitch of contrasting color. Presto!—the new Tyrolean effect. As a playful touch, add heart-shaped buttons and buckle. Worn with suit or matching plain knitted skirt, this blouse is "tops"! In pattern 5812 you will find complete instructions for making the blouse shown and a plain knitted skirt in size 16 to 18 and 36 to 40; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave., E., Winnipeg.

Stretching from Hudson Bay on the east to Alaska on the west, and from the northern boundaries of the province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia to the North Pole, the Northwest Territories occupy 1,500,000 square miles, or more than two-fifths of the area of the Dominion. Although about one-third the area of Europe, the population is only 15,000, including Indians and Eskimos.

In spite of the northern latitude the Territories are not a region of perpetual ice and snow as many believe. Although the winters are long and cold the temperatures are quite high in summer. The long days of sunlight promote rapid growth of vegetation, so that in some places grains and vegetables are grown for local consumption even as far north as the Arctic Circle. The so-called barren lands yield a profusion of wild flowers and mosses. The northern limit of timber growth runs in a sweeping diagonal line from the mouth of the Mackenzie River to Churchill on Hudson Bay, and timber suitable for mining purposes is cut on the shores of Great Bear Lake.

Since the seventeenth century the Northwest Territories have been an important producer of furs and since 1922 have yielded a fur harvest valued at more than $27,000,000. Notwithstanding the importance of the fur industry to the economic life of the Territories, recent events have shown that the future of this great northern area lies in the development of its mineral resources. Attention was first drawn to the mineral resources of the Canadian North by the gold strike on the Klondike River in the Yukon in 1896, and since then the Yukon has produced gold to the value of more than $192,000,000.

In the Northwest Territories the most important mineral development prior to 1930 was the bringing into production of two oil wells on the Mackenzie River 42 miles below Norman, and about 875 miles north from Edmonton. The discovery attracted considerable attention, but the wells remained capped until 1932, when a market for the oil was found in the Great Bear Lake mining field, where pitchblende deposits, from which radium is obtained, were discovered in 1930. The Great Bear Lake development has been of importance not only because of the radium silver deposits, but because of the inspiration it has given to prospecting and mining in the Territories by calling attention to the fact that large scale operations are possible in a region that, prior to 1930, was doubtfully regarded as a profitable mineral country because of problems of distance and communication.

Following the discovery of the Great Bear mining field, free gold was found near the mouth of the Yellowknife River in 1934. A number of other promising discoveries have been made, including those at Outpost Islands in Great Slave Lake in 1935, and at Golden Lake in 1936. Nickel and lead zinc deposits have been found also, and some development work has been carried out. Lignite coal has been discovered in several places.

Father Warned Against Interference Under Act Of 1366

A boy who snowballed his headmaster at Grimsby, England, inadvertently "brought to life" a statute of Edward III., enacted in 1366.

After the snowballing incident the boy was sent to his room by the headmaster. Instead he went home . . . and returned with his father.

Father, it was alleged, shouted at the headmaster, used bad language and invited him to join in a fight in the school yard.

Father was summoned under the 1366 act for conduct likely to cause a breach of the peace. The case was dismissed, but father was warned not to interfere with school duties.

The World of Wheat.

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director "Crop Testing Plan."

A perfect wheat is badly needed by farmers in the rust areas of Western Canada.

The rust area comprises the whole of Manitoba, and as well, Saskatchewan east of a vertical line running through Shelbybrook, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw.

For many years the ablest plant breeders in the United States, Canada, and in other countries, have been endeavoring to produce a suitable rust-resistant wheat. Several varieties have now been licensed for use in Canada, and other varieties are still under test.

"Thatcher" is the most widely distributed rust-resistant variety at present. It is a few days earlier than Marquis, somewhat higher yielding and is rust-resistant to a high degree.

Thatcher has about the same milling and baking qualities as Marquis. It has as well good strength of straw.

The defects of Thatcher are that the kernels are not of such a good shape as the Marquis berry, and as well they have rather a dull color, so that the grain grades, on the average, are about one-fifth of a grade less than Marquis.

Other licensed rust-resistant wheats are Renown (a product of the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, Winnipeg), and Apex (developed by the University of Saskatchewan).

Following factors have tended to raise price: Heavy consumptive demand for wheat in Continental Europe -- Spain purchases Argentine wheat -- Rain and hail storms may lower yield and quality of Indian crops -- Wet weather delays spring field work in Europe -- Poland prohibits grain exports -- First Argentine corn estimate 20 million bushels below 1936.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Bread prices raised in Argentine and Great Britain -- Record South African corn crop -- Indian wheat crop estimated at 376 million -- Regular demand for Iranian and Karoon barley in Holland -- Germany purchases Turkish rye -- Favorable new crop prospects in the U.S.

Our Liberties Remain.

One of the last public statements made by the late Sir Austin Chamberlain, cabled to this country, was a speech made to his own people in Birmingham. In view of possible denial of personal liberty in this province, the remarks of this famous statesman are of special interest. He said: "The longer I live the more profoundly grateful I am that I was born a citizen of this free country. We are free people; we govern ourselves. We can think our own thoughts; if we maintain decency and courtesy, we can express them freely. Our liberties remain and grow stronger as they wither and perish elsewhere."

Forage Crop Need Seen In Park Belt

Through the medium of completed questionnaires returned to the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, by farmers taking advantage of the Farm Planning Service offered by the Station, it has become quite evident that very few farmers plan to grow sufficient feed to properly provide for their cattle, even in favorable years. These questionnaires show that not one farmer in ten grows any tame grasses, and that leguminous crops are almost entirely ignored.

All successful livestock men recognize the fact that one good animal well fed is worth at least two poorly fed. During the summer months stock of all kinds, and particularly breeding animals, secure most of their sustenance from pasture; and during the winter the bulk of the ration for all classes of stock except swine consists of dry fodder. Therefore it is essential that ample and suitable forage crops be provided if satisfactory results are to be secured.

Legumes are especially valuable, both for pasture and hay, because of their high protein content. Through the feeding of leguminous roughages the most satisfactory results may be secured without the necessity of purchasing high-priced commercial feeds; and since legumes are as easily grown as any other class of forage crop, the feeding of rations balanced through their use is not a luxury but, because of the vastly superior results, a real economy.

The Lacombe Station states that there is a wide range of pasture crops which may be used, choice depending on the class of livestock and on soil and climatic conditions. However, under the conditions which prevail in Central Alberta there are few grasses, legumes and mixtures pre-eminently satisfactory.

For perennial pastures for horses, cattle or sheep, a mixture of 5 lbs. alfalfa and 8 lbs. broom is recommended. This will produce a high yield of palatable, nutritious fodder and at the same time serve to keep the animals systems toned up. Although good for all classes of stock, this type of pasture is especially necessary for dairy cows, to secure maximum production at minimum cost.

For any class of stock, when pastures are included in short rotations or when there is any other reason for preferring an annual crop, a mixture of 2 bushels oats and 1 bushel fall rye, spring seeded, is a very suitable crop. The oats make a tall growth and are grazed down before the animals will bother about the rye, which mats along the surface of the ground. This mixture is widely used for swine pasture, often supplemented with rape seed in rows 30 inches apart, at the rate of 3 lbs. per acre.

Under normal conditions in Central Alberta, one acre of forage crops will provide ample pasture or hay for one mature cow or its equivalent. This equivalent may consist of one horse or five sows or ewes.

Further information concerning hay and pasture crops suitable for special conditions and requirements may be secured from the Lacombe Station.

Barley Varieties.

At this season of the year farmers are deciding the crop and varieties that will be grown in 1937. The National Barley Committee wishes to draw attention to the fact that according to Circular 65 of the Board of Grain Commissioners, that only O.A.C. No. 21, Mensury, Mensury-Ott. 60 (Chinese), Manchurian, Gartons, and Peatland, are the only 6 row varieties that will be admitted into the malting grades, that is, No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3 Ex. C.W. 6 Row. While for feeding purposes the new smooth awn sorts, that is, Regal, Wisconsin No. 38, and Newal, may be desirable, they cannot be graded malting. Trebi may be graded into No. 1, No. 2 or No. 3 Ex. C.W. Trebi, but brings no higher price than No. 3 C.W. Barley, the best feed grade.

Burnside Notes

Mr. Fred Thompson is suffering from a bad attack of the flu.

Mrs. Hilda Avelsdson has returned from Calgary and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Patterson.

Sunday guests at the Jenkins home were Mr. Albert Spraggs and son Lewis.

We extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bolton (nee Helen Pross) on the birth of a son in Didsbury Hospital, April 13th.

Guests to Tuesday supper with Mr. D. Thoman were Mr. and Mrs. B. Woods and family and Miss S. Zook.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mardon were Sunday visitors at the George Metz home. Mrs. Emily Robinson, of Edmonton, has been spending a week at the latter home.

After spending the winter at the Vermilion Agricultural School, Mr. Bob Spraggs is spending a few days here with his father, prior to returning to his home at Hythe in the Peace River country.

FISH CHOWDER

1 1/2 Pounds of fresh fish (cod, haddock or other fish)
2 Cupfuls of diced potatoes
1 Cupful of diced carrots
4 Cupfuls of water
1/2 Pound of salt pork, diced
1 Medium onion, chopped
2 Tablespoonfuls of flour
2 Cupfuls of milk
Salt and pepper to taste

Remove the skin and bones from the fish and cut into small pieces. Cook the fish, the diced potatoes and the carrots in the water for 15 minutes. Fry the salt pork until crisp, remove the pieces and cook the onion in the fat until tender. Add the flour, stir until well blended and gradually add the milk, stirring until the mixture is smooth and thick. Combine this mixture with the fish and vegetables, season to taste with salt and pepper, simmer for about 10 minutes, stirring frequently and serve hot.

Interesting Discovery Is Made In Ancient Athens

The interest in discovered treasure never flags and there is nothing more enticing than "Treasure Island" or something of its kind. Mystery and romance are always lurking in the neighborhood. Athens is experiencing a thrill at the present time because of the adventure of two peasant boys. The lads were far up on Mount Olympus, 6,000 feet above the sea level. Chasing a rabbit it suddenly disappeared into a hole. The boys followed the rabbit and to their surprise, after pulling aside some bushes, found themselves at the entrance to a cave. Digging their way in they found themselves in a long underground passage divided into chambers.

The floor was made of large flags. At the extreme end they found two chambers fastened by heavy iron doors which they were unable to budge. In an open chamber they found a marble statue of a man broken in two at the waist; three heavy locked metal boxes and numbers of metal plates; four ancient helmets in gold; a big marble table and chairs. In another chamber they found a marble roe-buck and stag; a marble statue of a man with a stick in his hand; another of a man struggling with a tiger; numbers of other statues and other ancient relics.

An expedition is now being set on foot to explore and seek what lies behind the great iron doors.—Halifax Chronicle.

LITTLE GIRLS WILL TAKE PRIDE IN THIS CUTE PANTIE FROCK!

By Anne Adams

Little girls will take vast pride in this adorable Anne Adams pantie frock, and deem every event a "special one" when they can wear it. Specially suited to youthful play hours, or schooldays is Pattern 4340 smart in its utter simplicity, and extremely easy for busy mothers to make up in a jiffy. At "Two" to "Ten", fashionable touches are important, and any kiddie will be thrilled with her new fluttering caplets, wide action pleats, becoming yoke (accented by a large, colorful button) and simple neckline. The fabric you choose is most important, too, from a standpoint of wearability and colorfulness: such cottons as bright percale, gingham, or dimity would be perfect.

Pattern 4340 is available in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 takes 2½ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin or stamps (coin preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number, and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

WORRIED BY PIMPLES AND ECZEMA

Complexion Unblemished After Six Weeks of Kruschen

"For the past two years," writes a woman, "my face was covered with hard pimples and red blotches, and I also had eczema on my neck and fore-arms. I tried lotions, creams and ointments, without the slightest effect. I was so worried. Fortunately I decided to give Kruschen a trial, and without any exaggeration, within six weeks my face was without a blemish, and I have not had a sign of eczema since. I take Kruschen regularly every morning, and would not be without it."—(Mrs.) J. A.

Pimples and eczema are frequently due to impurities in the blood—irritant poisons which sluggish body organs are failing to expel from the system. Kruschen Salts help to keep the body organs functioning normally and healthily, thus preventing the accumulation of impurities in the blood.

Gardening

The seed catalogue is a thoroughly reliable guide for any gardener. It is illustrated with actual photographs. Those catalogues put out by the large firms contain much more than a mere mention of the many flowers and vegetables available in Canada. They specify important points, such as time of planting, resistance or lack of resistance to frost, height, color, season of blooming, whether scented, and also the suitability of the flower for cutting purposes. All of these points should be taken into consideration in planning a real garden, authorities state, as only with such knowledge can a comprehensive and practical scheme be worked out.

For instance, little plants must not be hidden by tall things, and there should be as much bloom in the garden as possible from early June on. The most satisfactory planting, also, will give plenty of material for bouquets and there should be some plants noted for their scent. A good flower garden is similar to a good library. It will reflect the individual preferences of the owner, and there will be something to fit every occasion.

With literally thousands of vegetable varieties and types available for gardens in nearly any part of Canada, it is a good policy to add at least something new and unfamiliar each season.

This may not be new advice to the gardener whose huge, luscious tomatoes take prizes in the Fall Shows, and whose corn is known about the neighborhood for its sweetness, but to those ordinary amateurs who grow a pea, bean, corn and tomato garden, with no variety from year to year, it should awaken a little curiosity.

There are a few uncommon edibles which can be easily grown, and variety adds interest to vegetable gardening: Leek—a fine onion-like flavor for soups and stews; marrow—delicious when sliced and fried; chicory or French endive—for winter salads; salsify or oyster plant—a root with a distinctive flavor which can be left in the ground over winter; and there are many others. Look for them in the new catalogues.

Royal Research Ship

Non-Magnetic Vessel Being Built By British Admiralty

Amid all the excitement about naval defence the Admiralty is quietly constructing at least one ship with a wholly peaceful purpose. In the secluded estuary of the Dart work is proceeding on the non-magnetic ship Research, which is to serve as a check on compass errors due to magnetism.

She is one of the few all-wooden ships now being built in the world. The constructors are not allowed to use more than 600 pounds of iron in the whole of the construction, and most of the other metal that will be built into her will be non-magnetic. The ship is to make magnetic observations at sea, and these will be used to provide accurate forecasts of the correction to be applied to magnetic compasses in all ships.

Work of this kind used to be done by the ship provided by the Carnegie Institution at Washington but when she was lost by fire seven years ago the institution did not replace her. Then in 1935 the Admiralty undertook to take over the work, and the Research is to be a charge on the Navy Estimates. The ship, however, will not rank as "H.M.S." but will be known as "R.R.S."—Royal Research Ship.—Manchester-Guardian.

Always On The Job

Work Of Red Cross Cannot Be Too Highly Praised

Dr. A. R. Daffoe, of Callander, recently set forth in impressive language the importance of Red Cross work in the North country. When the quintuplets were born, he said, a Red Cross nurse answered his appeal for aid, and this was followed by further nursing assistance. "When the Red Cross stepped in," the doctor continued, "they had no idea of the fame that would ultimately rest on that event. They had no idea that their efforts would be rewarded. But now they will always be known as the organization that helped to keep these babies alive."

This tribute brings home to the public what the Red Cross always is doing in cases of emergency. All through the North country its work is carried on. Outpost hospitals now dotted over the land have been a boon to the settlers in sparsely settled districts, and their nurses are at all times prepared to tramp long distances to carry to sufferers the benefit of medical attention. These units have brought hospitalization within reached of thousands of isolated settlers.—Hamilton Spectator.

Trans-Atlantic Airways

Negotiations Between Britain And U.S. Reach Deadlock

Negotiations between the United States and Great Britain providing for reciprocal aviation services in connection with the proposed joint trans-Atlantic operation by Pan-American Airways and Imperial Airways of Great Britain have reached a deadlock says a special Washington despatch to the New York Times. The despatch continues:

The chief bone of contention, it was learned, is a difference of opinion between the Canadian authorities and the United States department of commerce as to whether New York or Montreal shall be the trans-Atlantic terminal.

Satisfied With Conditions

B.C. Waterfront Organizations Opposed To Foreign Unions

Members of Canadian-chartered waterfront organizations working British Columbia lower coast ports were on record as entirely satisfied with existing longshore employer-employee relations in the province and opposed to incursion of their territory by foreign chartered unions.

In a letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the Dominion department of labor seven longshore groups asked that outside unions be not allowed to interfere with "the present stable and satisfactory conditions of the industry in British Columbia."

To Ease a Headache Fast

Get Real Quick-Acting, Quick-Dissolving "ASPIRIN"

See How "ASPIRIN" Tablets Work

In 2 seconds by stop watch, an "Aspirin" tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop an "Aspirin" tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this glass . . . happens in your stomach.

For QUICK Relief

If you suffer from headaches what you want is quick relief.

"Aspirin" tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take an "Aspirin" tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly . . . headaches, neuralgia and neuritis pains start easing almost at once.

"Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Pittsburg Department Store Was Prepared For Big Flood

Pittsburgh's big downtown department store, Joseph Horne Co., which took the rap for about $1,500,000 flood damage in 1936, was all set this time, even if the flood did decide to go away from the door. Spectators who were around the neighborhood when the 1937 water came up the street saw what happened: "Aluminum bulkheads were pushed up behind the glass in 16 big windows and bolted tight, others clamped shut behind the doors. In an hour and 40 minutes, the store was watertight 12 feet above the street.—Business Week.

THE YELLOW BRIAR

A Story of the Irish on the Canadian Countryside

By PATRICK SLATER

By arrangement with Thomas Allen, Publisher, Toronto.

Coming to Canada, these women continued to suffer and endure as their menfolk cut homesteads on these stony hillsides—but there was a touch of hope thrown in. And where there is hope, there is joy. One of the finest things Canada ever did was to put a kindly twinkle into the blue-grey eyes of these proud, poverty-stricken Irishwomen.

Their tongues may have been tart at times, but they wore their knuckles to the bone in the service of their love. The Scottish Presbyterians may have been the salt of the earth in Upper Canada; but the Irish women gave it sweetness and light. These mothers of Methodist families were quiet, tidy, capable women; and it was a pleasure to watch one of them making ready an evening meal. They were wholesome-minded because they were home lovers and were busy homemaking. And among women, it is the home-keeping hearts that are happiest. The mother of a family was proud of her station as such; and, as a result, she was content to relax and drift quietly into the matron class. Her Irish eyes were smiling. One was not startled those days by seeing the worn eyes of an old woman looking out from a face made up to recall a youth that had fled. Has not every age of a woman's life a natural beauty of its own?

The bodies of these Irish women may have been stiff-necked with a curious family pride that had nothing much to justify it; but that very pride fortified their unconquerable wills and helped to keep their menfolk respectable. There was constant in their hearts a depth of love and loyalty; and like my old yellow briar, it burst into bloom at times.

She seeketh wool and flax and worketh willingly with her hands.

She stretched forth her hands to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hand to the needy.

She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

Favor is deceitful and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.

—The words of King Lemuel.

CHAPTER II.

It was early in the spring of 1847 that I first got to know that young girl's family, as I played around the Tavern Tyrone at Toronto. It is a long journey back, indeed, from life's end to the little boy at the starting of it.

My family were of the poor Irish. A sailing vessel, returning to Quebec for timber, that year called at an Irish port to load its decks, as cheap cargo, with famished and wasted emigrants on their wild flight from the famine and the plague. Woe's me! Unspeakable were the miseries of that long, tempest-tossed voyage in a filthy, fever-stricken ship. Half its human cargo were buried at sea; and as the vessel sailed past Father's Point, the waters of the St. Lawrence for miles behind were strewn with bedding tossed overboard by sailors making the decks ship-shape for port. As a flat scow was being towed slowly up the river near Prescott, my poor father was stricken down. He went under shallow earth quickly without benefit of clergy. My mother wailed after the manner of Irish women, and counted her silver. It was a handful of coppers she had, with a few sixpenny bits and a shilling. A steamboat brought the widow Slater and her small son to Toronto. How fortunate it was she had only one child.

My mother took lodgings with Mr. Michael O'Hogan in a small frame house that still stands, in tottering decay, on the east side of York Street, a few doors down from Richmond Street. Our living quarters were upstairs in a small back bedroom, which we shared with a large family. She was only a slip of a girl, and she was one of them black Irish. You know what I mean? There was the mop of raven hair, the swarthy skin and a touch of down on the lip. Beyond the cruel, desolate ocean, there had been a sparkle of fun in her eyes, and the tongue of the laughing little baggage had been always on the wag. But the poor little Irish girl was fair distraught, now, with the outlandish ways of the crazy, new-world town, and sore afraid of its streets infested with protestants and nigger folk. She was sick at heart; she was homesick for the earthen floor of a sod cabin, with its friendly smell of burning turf and the sour butter-milk.

My mother got odd scrubbing jobs, day work like; and I ran about the street. A little lad of eight or nine years has some clear-cut impressions printed at that age on the tender, unscarred membranes of the brain; and they remain distinct and vivid to the end of his days. I got odd jobs myself, splitting kindling and doing chores in the morning for Mistress Kitty O'Shea, who lived in a little frame cottage where Shepherds Lane now is. She was a jolly, ruddy-faced little body with silver always in her pocket; and she had fashionable ladies lodging with her. On fine afternoons, Paddy Casey would come round with his open carriage and spanking pair. Mistress Kitty O'Shea and her stylish guests were driven slowly up and down King Street to see the sights and take the air. Of course, I did not understand the business at the time; but no doubt my friend Kitty wanted other folk to know the sort of house she was running.

In 1847, there was plenty going on in Toronto to fill a young lad's mind and keep his face agape. We had come from drippy Donegal where, in the little pockets and quarter-acre patches, "the pratties grow so small they have to eat them skins and all." Toronto seemed to me a stirring, big town; and things were in a constant commotion. Then, too, there were the public hangings. Adventure bunted into a fellow round any corner; and there was lots to eat.

Woman Of 86 Got The Idea They Were All Terrifying

Eighty-six years of age and has never seen a moving picture nor been in a theatre. That is the record of Mrs. Mary Eleanor Elliott Johnston, Goderich, Ontario, who has just quietly passed the 86th milestone of her life at her home on Britannia road.

"What is it they call them? The talkies? I never quite got up nerve enough to go," apologized this active and alert "grand-dame." Her daughter, with whom she lives, went to a show once and saw a picture of a man being killed. That was enough.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

Satan's first lie was a half-truth. He told our first parents that to eat the forbidden fruit would open their eyes—and it did. But it was to see themselves as sinners. He said that that they would know both good and evil—and so they did. But how much better to have known only good! Satan's favorite device for deluding and destroying souls is the use of half truths.

Ordered to Pay $10 For 40-Cent Theft

For the theft of 40 cents, Melford Elliott, Olds, was fined $5.00 and $5.00 costs by Magistrate G. C. Peattie at Olds.

M. Cipperley, operator of a garage at Olds, was accustomed to place small sums of money in a tin bank at his garage. He noted the fact that the "bank funds" failed to increase to the extent he felt they should. Accordingly, he placed some marked money in the bank. After this had disappeared it was found on the person of Elliott, according to the police.

Social Credit Notes.

Didsbury S.C. Group No. 1 held its last meeting Monday, April 12th. Various correspondence and business was dealt with. A letter from the superintendent of sales tax was very interesting to the members, as it contained a reply to the resolution sent to that office by the group, regarding control of the sales tax. The letter stated that plans are practically complete for the installation of a stamp system for collection of the ultimate purchaser's sales tax.

A resolution (No. 1) will be forwarded to the government, stating that this group does not think it advisable to cut the private debts vertically, and advise that a horizontal cut be made. The group thinks that in this manner the accumulation of interest will be cut off and that the original principal will remain untouched, avoiding confiscation.

A resolution (No. 2) of the Jarvis Bay S.C. Group was endorsed, suggesting that all car licenses be cut in half and an additional tax on gasoline raised if necessary, that way enabling the people to use their cars instead of storing them in the garages.

The Highway Traffic Act again came under discussion.

Resolution No. 3: That the highway traffic board should not have the sole power to decide on regulations interfering with the truck business and that those regulations should be decided upon by members of the House.

All group members present were in favor of joining the A.C.C.M.

Speech in the House by Hon. Dr. Cross was read and analyzed, and the members learnt why the government could not go faster than they do in regard to Social Credit.

After a lengthy business session a tasty lunch was served by the ladies and a very interesting came to a close. Next meeting will be held April 26th at the home of the president, Mr. A. Schwesinger.

Mrs. Schwesinger, Sec.-Treas

The Didsbury Pioneer S.C. Group held a social entertainment in the 20th Century Club Rooms on Monday evening, 5th April. After a program of music, recitations, readings and songs, a period of social games conducted by the social committee was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the lunch committee. Next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. C. Mack on Monday, April 19th at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

H Erb, Secretary.

Westcott S.C. Group met at the home of Mrs J A Hughes. Seven new members were enrolled bringing the membership up to 34. The evening was spent discussing the various phases of Social Credit. Owing to seedling it is undecided whether the group will hold a meeting in May but plans will go forward for the big picnic and rally which the group plans to hold sometime in June. Lunch was served by Mrs. L. P. Worthington and Mrs. Roland Webster.

Wheat! What Is It?

From the Deloraine Times

Wheat is a seed that is planted and grown in the West to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. The protein varies in content and the man who can guess nearest the strength of the protein is called "wheat grader" by the public and "fool" by the farmer. The price of wheat is determined at primary markets, and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought.

A group of farmers set a trap for Edmonton to watch the wheat market and after a few days' deliberation he wired them to this effect: "Some think it will go down, some think it will go up. I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Wheat is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer, and lost in the fall.
